IGATEX ORIGIN - SUSTAINABLE FASHION SHOW & TALKS

For the very first time in an exhibition in Pakistan a sustainability pavilion – IGATEX ORIGIN was dedicated for leading national university students to showcase their sustainable fashion projects, based on the concept of Recycling, Upcycling, Downcycling in shape of display and fashion show, in the presence of textile professionals.

IGATEX ORIGIN Pavilion successfully highlighted sustainability through a series of expert talks and panel discussions about the climate change and its impact on the textile supply chain. IGATEX ORIGIN brought sustainable fashion, raw materials, fabrics and responsibility sourced trims accessing under one roof, met its goal to support a bold transition and successfully inspired professionals from different communities to join a growing movement for change and finding ways of engaging with sustainability.

IGATEX PAKISTAN CONFERENCE

A high-level conference took place along the exhibition focusing on panel discussions highlighting technical innovations & green initiatives in the textile, denim, retail and garment sectors that brought industry stakeholders and thought leaders under a common platform to share their valuable insights, market overview and experiences.

Furthermore, the conference addressed various strategies to manage the impact of textile supply chain on the environment and climate change. The theme was directly aligned with the worldwide initiatives being undertaken in moving towards zero carbon emission. Divided into panel discussions led by academic and industrial experts, the conference highlighted technical innovations & green initiatives in the textile, denim, retail and garment sectors. IGATEX PAKISTAN Conference bridged the gap between academia and industry and served as a worthy platform bringing industry stakeholders and thought leaders under a common platform to share their valuable insight, market overview and experiences.
